

AIRROC NEXTGEN TASK FORCE

AIRROC extends a warm welcome to the new members of the NextGen Task Force. The AIRROC NextGen Task Force works in conjunction with the AIRROC Board of Directors and Executive Director to explore ways to transfer knowledge about legacy, engage with and provide networking and educational opportunities for the next generation of legacy industry and AIRROC association leaders. AIRROC looks forward to the enthusiasm and fresh ideas they bring and working with them towards a successful journey together. Let us introduce you to the newest members of our talented, creative and dynamic team!

Matt DiSanto

Matt is a senior financial analyst for the Capital Advisory group within Aon Reinsurance Solutions. Responsible for advising clients on financial strength and issuer credit ratings, rating agency criteria, structured reinsurance solutions and capital management strategies.

Within the run-off reinsurance industry, Matt has facilitated the risk transfer of over $10B in legacy liabilities.

Prior to joining Aon, Matt graduated in May 2017 with a bachelor's degree in Industrial Engineering from the Pennsylvania State University College of Engineering.

Anthony D'Ambrosio

Anthony joined Brandywine Holdings in 2017 and was recently promoted to a new role as an Assumed Reinsurance Claim Handler. He is now responsible for all aspects of claim handling for asbestos, long term exposure, and environmental treaty and facultative reinsurance claims under several books of business. Prior to this he was an accountant in the reinsurance department. His responsibilities included both assumed pro rata claims and ceded excess of loss claims

Anthony attended West Chester University where he received a degree in Finance with a minor in Accounting. He then went on to receive his Master's Degree in Forensic Accounting from Neumann University. Currently, Anthony is pursuing his Associates in Reinsurance (ARE).

In his free time he enjoys fishing, golfing, and long runs with his dog, Rudy.

Anthony has been an AIRROC member since joining the reinsurance industry in 2017. He has attended multiple education and networking days that helped him immensely in his career as a Reinsurance Claim Handler. He believes AIRROC is a key driving force in connecting industry professionals during the events the organization holds.

Grant Donkervoet

Grant is an Insurance Modeling Actuary at Two Sigma IQ (TSIQ), a technology company focused on developing core systems for commercial P&C insurers. He provides domain expertise to shape TSIQ products including research and development efforts for traditional and non-traditional pricing and underwriting methodologies.

Prior to joining TSIQ, he served in many actuarial roles ranging from pricing and analytics, technology system development, runoff management and reserving. He's been in industry since 2008 and holds professional designations as an Associate of the Casualty Actuarial Society (ACAS) and Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriter (CPCU). He currently serves as the Education Co-Chair for the Reinsurance Under 40's group in NYC.

He is a husband and proud father of two. He's slowly realizing raising children may be tougher than any school or actuarial exams he had to undertake.

Kathryn Reynolds

Katie Reynolds is an Assumed Claims Analyst at RiverStone Resources. She joined RiverStone in 2016 as a direct claims handler and transitioned to the Assumed Team in 2018 to assist with the migration of several books of business. During her time at RiverStone, Katie has led numerous initiatives to develop and refine department processes and procedures. She has broad claims experience, primarily focusing on long-tailed exposures including asbestos, environmental and construction defect.

Prior to joining RiverStone, Katie was an attorney specializing in bankruptcy law. She developed plans for corporate and individual clients to reduce or eliminate debt, either through bankruptcy filings or new financial strategies. She practiced in New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

Katie holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and History from the University of Rochester and a Juris Doctor degree from the University of New Hampshire School of Law.

Simin (Sunny) Liu

Sunny is an actuary at Swiss Re supporting Casualty Reinsurance portfolio analytics. She has been an active participant in AIRROC events since 2019, when she previously worked at the P&C Deals team at Fortitude Re.

Sunny started her career in (re)insurance at Liberty Mutual, where she did rotations in Commercial Insurance Planning and Personal Property Ratemaking. She later joined AIG Enterprise Risk Management focusing on actuarial model reviews for commercial lines of business, with engagements in both pricing and reserving models.

Sunny holds a Master of Science degree in Operations Research from Northeastern University. She is a Fellow of Casualty Actuarial Society (FCAS) and has a strong interest in data analytics.

Jessica Groenewegen

Jessica Groenewegen joined TigerRisk Partners in 2017 as a member of the New York broking team, focusing on casualty accounts. In 2019, Jessica transitioned to the Legacy Practice Team and has since been dedicated to helping clients meet their strategic objectives through the use of reserve covers. She has played a key role in the successful placement of several reserve covers for key clients over the last two years.

Prior to joining TigerRisk, Jessica began her career in (re)insurance through an array of internships, including: Marsh and McLennan Agency, The Niles Agency, Endurance, and Swett & Crawford, while studying at St. John's University. Through these internships, Jessica broadened her knowledge in several product lines, ranging from Excess and Surplus Lines to VIP Personal Insurance.

Jessica received a Bachelor of Science degree in Risk Management and Insurance from St. John's University, formerly known as the College of Insurance.

Nate Zwick

Nate Zwick is a Claim Specialist at The Hartford Financial Services. Nate works in The Hartford's Reinsurance Asset Management organization. In this role, Nate manages and adjusts numerous large, long-tailed claim exposures including asbestos, environmental, toxic tort, workers compensation, molestation, lead paint and sports head injuries. Nate also has broad based claim experience including ceded and assumed reinsurance, as well as experience handling various international run-off claims.

Nate joined The Hartford in 2011. Over the years, he has earned positions within the claims organization of increasing responsibility, most recently, as an Assumed Claims Specialist.

Nate holds a B.S. degree from the University of Rhode Island and an M.B.A. from the Isenberg School of Management. He is also a licensed Property and Casualty insurance adjuster. Nate lives in Melrose, Massachusetts with his wife Lauren.
